The image shows a screenshot of the Microsoft Edge browser interface. The address bar contains the word "google". Below the address bar are navigation tabs for "All", "Shopping", "Images", "Videos", "Maps", "News", and "My saves". The main content area displays a search result for "Google" with various service links like Gmail, Maps, News, Images, and Translate. On the right side, the "Advanced settings" menu is open, showing various options with toggle switches. The "Cookies" option is highlighted with a red box, and its dropdown menu is open, showing "Don't block cookies" as the selected option. Other visible settings include "Have Cortana assist me in Microsoft Edge" (On), "Search in the address bar with Bing" (On), "Show search and site suggestions as I type" (On), "Show search history" (On), "Optimize taskbar web search results for screen readers" (Off), "Show sites I frequently visit in Top sites" (On), "Let sites save protected media licenses on my device" (On), "Use page prediction to speed up browsing, improve reading, and make my overall experience better" (On), and "Help protect me from malicious sites and downloads with Windows Defender SmartScreen" (On).
