QUICK TIP #1

Assume Identity

If you go to the 'Create' area and click on the 'Act as' tab, your device will now switch to the user that you choose. This is an efficient way for your visiting observers to turn up without having to bring a device or to log in.

Act As
Nautilus Access Role	School Role	External Partner
Headteacher User	Learning Partner	<input type="checkbox"/>	Assume Identity
System User	Headteacher	<input type="checkbox"/>	Assume Identity
User	Governor	<input type="checkbox"/>	Assume Identity
Leadership User	Senior Leader	<input type="checkbox"/>	Assume Identity
User	Teacher	<input type="checkbox"/>	Assume Identity
User	Teacher	<input type="checkbox"/>	Assume Identity
User	Educational Consultant	<input type="checkbox"/>	Assume Identity

QUICK TIP #2

Creating the Conditions

You can change the evaluation statements (judgements) to suit your activity. If you change the colour palette, the platform will take on a very different feel. Why not discuss and agree each term with your team?

'Soft Feedback'

Your leaders can all use their Workflow for same day verbal feedback. A great way for more informal recommendations and recognition. Add agreed actions and areas for improvement if required.

Welcome to the Summer ENewsletter

We've been looking very closely at how we can best support partnership working. School leaders have really developed their relationships with colleagues from other schools in recent years. It's important that we can now get the best out of these relationships. When you take a learning walk with a leader from the school down the road, or a school improvement partner, this external validation adds credibility. It's also great to have a fresh pair of eyes contributing to your staff feedback. We're working with more groups of schools who are seeking to collaborate, with each school adding their partner leaders to each other's school system. With a few developments to aid efficiency, we can begin to take our self-evaluation to another level. Try inviting in a colleague for a quick learning walk this summer and see what you think.

Wishing you a successful summer term - David and the team.

Our passion lies deep in who we are, not what we do.

Connect, Collaborate and Share

New Nautilus developments designed to add credibility.

We're helping schools to get the best out of their partnerships with some powerful and efficient solutions. Once again, we have taken the feedback and ideas from our schools to our development meetings to discuss viability. We've kept them as simple and user friendly as possible for quick and easy, daily use.

Add your external partners

When you add your observers, you will now see a checkbox for any external observers. This will now highlight any contributions from external partners across your platform, making it clear that you are seeking external verification and contributions.

From the 'Walks' area, you will now see a mail icon on any completed observations. This will enable you to send this feedback direct to your colleague if you choose. This helps schools to be paperless, to offer same-day feedback and to reduce administration.

Email feedback direct

Share and Import frameworks

You can now share anything that you create in the builder. If you have created your own learning walks, book studies, observations or surveys, you can now file share. This is designed to enable schools to share ideas and best practice. Importing and deploying takes seconds. Create your own evaluation portfolio.

Create Your Report

Design your own report

When you click on the yellow PDF file icon to download your report, you will now be able to choose your preferred content. The 'Strategic Analysis' report will present your whole school and activity statistical outcomes. This is the bit with the headline data and doughnut charts. Perfect for sharing with your team because it does not refer to any individual lessons or teachers. Great for same-day recognition.

The 'Individual Feedback Reports' are the ones to use support your professional feedback. No formal judgements, just recognition and recommendations. You can also choose to download separately rather than in the entire report. If you choose to anonymise, you can now use these reports for governor and external partner meetings.

Nautilus Community Coming soon!

Our Nautilus community will be launching next year. It will be your designated space for all school leaders to connect, share ideas, good practice, discuss and collaborate. This will also be the place to share your with your connections.

Our passion lies deep in who we are, not what we do.

We're on Your Team!

Upcoming Exclusive Team Nautilus Workshops

Here's our new leadership workshops, intended to show your team how to use the platform and how to get the best out of each activity, saving you valuable time spent cascading information in your staff meetings. We've also increased the capacity as well so that you can book as many tickets as you would like.

BETT & ESA Awards 2022

It's been a fascinating journey since we launched just over a year ago. To be working with so many innovative and talented school leaders has been a privilege. What we didn't expect was to be receiving recognition from within the industry. In March we attended our first BETT Show Awards at the Excel in London. This is an exciting, global event with some very big names. It was a great opportunity to meet people face to face and to share ideas about education and leadership.

To add to the excitement, we found ourselves nominated as a finalist at the BETT Show 22 Leadership & Management awards, and again weeks later as a finalist at the Education Suppliers Awards. To receive this kind of validation from both panels of expert judges is a significant step in the Nautilus journey so far.

WIN FREE BOOKS FOR YOUR SCHOOL!

We're big on collaboration and promoting reading here at Nautilus. We've donated over 1000 books to schools this year and we're going to be giving away 3 more Nautilus Book Chests to schools this summer term.

To enter, CLICK HERE and answer the following question, in no more than 150 words. We'd like to know your views.

“What you think will be the 3 most significant challenges for school leaders in the next school year?”

When you send us your thoughts, you'll automatically be entered into our summer draw, where you'll have the chance to win a Nautilus Book Chest for your school. This is great way for us to be able to listen to school leaders, get the development of Nautilus right and to help schools to engage and support their young readers.

Draw made 1st June 2022. Non-subscribing schools welcome. UK schools only. Open to non-subscribing schools
